NORWAY AND VICINITY

Maine Merchants' Week

Maine Retail Merchants' War Savings Stamp Week is Sept. 9-14, 1918. Maine has still some 100,000 of stamps to sell in addition to all past sales and outstanding pledges. Such sales must have our hearty backing. Remember the war is not won yet. Let's all take hold and boost.

The retail merchants are trying to put the War Savings Stamp drive over its quota by a hearty co-operation of every merchant in the state with the assistance of the general public. Special effort is being made to have Norway do its share in this part of the drive during the week of Sept. 9 to 14.

Lillian Swan has gone to Livermore where she is caring for Mrs. Ed. Phillips. An auction will be held Saturday, Sept. 7th at the W. P. Anderson's place Summit Hill, Harrison at one o'clock which will include household goods and farming tools.

Mildred J. Holmes is having a week vacation from her work at the E. N. Sweet Shoe Co. and is spending the week with Rev. R. J. Brown and family of Portland. Margaret Bruce who has been spending two weeks with friends in town, returned home with Miss Holmes.

Mrs. O. L. Stone and daughter, Doris, are spending the week at Bethel with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Abbott.

Mary A. Stone from Rumford is stopping with her brother, O. L. Stone. R. D. Gould and wife have been visiting the past week, relatives in Manchester. N. L. Nichols is with her sister in Massachusetts, who is in very poor health.

A card recently received from Harold Moore states that he arrived overseas safely.

Mrs. Maud Mann is clerking in the store of Z. L. Merchant. Mrs. Edith Easton is also assisting at the same place during the week.

Hazel Bicknell who has been clerking in Z. L. Merchant's during the summer, finished work there Saturday night, Aug. 24th, and starts for Boston Saturday to attend the millinery openings.

The recent marriage of George H. Bennett and Lillian McLucas is the occasion of felicitations from relatives and friends, in wishing them many years of wedded happiness and prosperity. They will reside at their home on Whitman street, where Mr. Bennett conducts a carriage and sign painting business, which he has carried to a high state of perfection. Mrs. Bennett is well known in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Everett and family, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Everett and family all of this town and Mr. and Mrs. Crockett Record with their family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Everett at their camp on Crooked River. William Snow, of Camp Devens, Mass., was at home Saturday night on a 36 hour leave, returning Sunday night on the 5.50 train. Lewis Fogg, also of Camp Devens, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pratt of Lewiston were at George Currier's Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Colby of Auburn were at George Currier's, Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Snow and little daughter, Roxie, of South Paris were at George Currier's, Saturday night and Sunday.

George Currier who has been in Boston on a two weeks' vacation, returned Saturday afternoon.

C. A. Frost, who has been working for Harry Morton for eight weeks, has got home, and is doing quite an extensive job for S. B. Cummings, putting in three million windows, twenty-four lights of plate glass to a window, seven foot butters, sink in pantry, with other changes in the pantry, seven hard wood floors, Langley & Butts have the job to change the plumbing all over, John Sampson is hanging the paint brush and hanging the paper.

Tim Heath did a good turn with a hoe on Main street from the end of the new cement road to Fair street corner in Ward 8. This public spirited act was partly a personal affair on the hump in the street threatening to cause broken springs on his motor sprinkler.

Hol. Sawyer and crew finished painting the exterior of Carroll, Jellerson Co. shoe factory this week. It has been a long job with a small crew, rainy weather, planning and having to upset the combination.

Mrs. Luther G. Morse was operated on at the Central Maine General Hospital Monday after a critical illness of several weeks. Her condition is reported to be favorable for recovery.

Base Ball

West Paris 2; Carrollites 1

One of the closest games for several years was played on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon when the West Paris team came back at the Norway shoemakers, winning out with a 2 to 1 result.

This was the fourth meeting the clubs have had this season, each team pulling two games, making an opening for another rubber if the players are so disposed.

The Carrollites put into the field the same outfit as appeared on the previous Saturday, but West Paris changed their lineup somewhat and introduced Delano as pitcher and Pratt, both of Oxford, in right field. It is a question whether a new material added great strength to a contingent which needs no outside material when not crippled.

Harry Delano pitched a winning game as his left hand delivery placed the Carrollites until the game was too good for a come back. His work held the shoe baters to three scattered hits, with nine strike outs as the quota failed to wait any more chances for passes, but nibbled frequently at the most stupid bait. Hunt twirled a most unfortunate game with a wildness which passed one by the four ball route and four from being hit. None produced scores but Packard was forced to retire in the third and Emery left the game in the seventh after a serious injury which in a measure demoralized the team and made a great impression on their fighting ability. The visitors were forced into change which took Rowe from first to back stop, H. Perham came from center to short, Bacon, who had not started, went first, and Harry Young, a spectator, held down center field.

The playing was sharp and the game closely contested even with General Hard Luck in command of the forces. No blame can be attached to Hunt for the unfortunate accidents which are liable to occur in any ball game where swift pitching is featured.

West Paris landed the first run when Emery singled into center, worked a long and scored on H. Perham's single toward center. Their second score came in the unucky seventh. Billings secured first on a fielder's choice when Bethell retired Pratt on a play to Traffon at second.

The runner went second on Bacon's hit into center and scored as Rowe laced a long roller into right.

Something like an opening came in the Carrollites' second with one gone. Traffon walked, went second on a passed ball and Purinton gained first for being given a free ticket to that spot. This combination was too good and Boulter laid down a weak one which forced Traffon out at third then Hunt fanned.

Nothing good appeared again for Norway until the seventh, then with one out, Traffon singled, wiggle along and forced a throw to third which caught him see-sawing between second and third.

Billings' muff during the wrangle placed him safely at coveted sack and he scored on a passed ball. A ray of light for another chance came in the eighth. Hunt, the first up, rapped smartly into right and Bethell laid down a pretty hit on the first base line which looked good for a safe scratch, but he kicked the ball when passing and was declared out. Young, the substitute for West Paris, retired Bedard on a finely executed one handed stab and Jordan passed out on first.

LaFrance and Sweeney retired in the last of the seventh in favor of Bedard and Sanborn.

Expensive errors and a poor batting eye in pinches contributed largely toward the shoemakers' defeat. Several Norway misplays were excusable and the crowd easily overlooked these, but a number were pulled off which failed to arouse the charitable instincts even among the most sympathetic.

Making Room 9; Stock Room 5

In a three inning game closed on account of darkness, the making room clowned into the stock room Wednesday night and clowned a lead especially in the second inning. Four singles, a wild throw and a batter getting bored by a pitched ball, netted six runs which sent the bunch two runs beyond their antagonists.

This was a game bubbling over with surprises, as the darkness put camouflage on the ball and each player needed a head light to locate the sphere. It was a game of "blind man's bluff" and the men chased aimlessly about the field in pantomime like Punch and Judy show figures minus the ventriloquist.

George LaFrance was the first umpire to start the game, but benched himself as the side-line gaff produced a shell shock, so Gus Pottle finished in due form without being chased into the bag.

Possibly another game may be arranged in this league, but early darkness is ringing down the curtain on this after supper sport until next season.

Fighting Back of the Lines

Inferior, low-grade gasoline costs most in the long run. You count the cost in low mileage, weak power and excess carbon deposits.

SO-CO-NY is the Quality gasoline. It reduces the operating cost of your car by delivering more miles per gallon. It saves.

And in saving you are "doing your bit" these days. You are actually fighting back of the lines.

Look for the Red, White and Blue SO-CO-NY Sign.

Save with SO-CO-NY. Save wisely. Save well.

NURSES NEEDED

The government has issued a call for 25,000 nurses and Maine's quota to supply is 475. The government is to pay bill for training including uniform and books, in the best hospitals.

There is plenty of opportunity now, for the young women who have been saying for several years, "I believe I'll take up nursing," to prove whether she meant it or not. The Red Cross is asking for nurses and the necessary enrollment is still far from completion.

Opportunities are constantly arising, and for the young woman who is thoroughly equipped for nursing service, there will be plenty of chances—the thing is now to secure the training, and to be ready when the call comes. Even if the war is over, sooner than most, people expect there will be ample opportunity for nurses to give service in this country. The shortage of nurses for special community work, infant welfare, school and tubercular work, is very great.

Hospitals throughout the country are also seriously handicapped by the shortage of nurses. And so the young woman who has dreamed of becoming a nurse should take this opportunity to fit herself—such another may never again come her way. She will be equipped with a life profession, whether the war comes or not. Everybody's chance for sacrifice and service will come sooner or later, and to those who are ready the greatest opportunities for service will come.

Miss Agnes Beal of Norway has the necessary literature in regard to this nursing proposition.

ALBANY

Good news has at last reached us of Corporal Bertie Bean, son of H. I. Bean formerly of Albany now of Lewiston. He was wounded July 14th in the neck and left arm by a shell. They took fifteen stitches in the wound. He is in the Red Cross Hospital.

Last week was a good hay week the best we have had this year. George Cummings has finished cutting A. G. Bean's hay. He also sold three pairs of oxen and steers to Jason Scribner. He has only one hand and a bad leg but does more work than three-fourths of the men in town that have two good legs and two good hands. He cuts a large amount of hay, and has about the best barn in the town and a large stock of cattle now left. Howard Allen is cutting the hay on the Cole Farm at the corner.

Mrs. Paul, the minister's mother from Springfield, Mass., has been boarding a few days with Anna Cummings through the hot weather.

Summer Grover and wife were at the Corner last week to visit their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Andrews and family for this may be the last time they can ever visit them in Albany as Mr. Andrews has got a job on the mail route that goes from Bryant's Pond and expects to leave Albany this week. If they leave this school district there will not be enough scholars left for a school so the rest of the school are will have to be carried either to the Town House School, or to the Clark School either road is a hard hilly road of two miles. The distance is about the same.

Mrs. Nancy Andrews has got two city boarders from New York and Georgia for a while and Mrs. Howard Allen is working for Mrs. Andrews. Sherman Allen who works at South Paris visited his father, Howard Allen, Sunday.

Sherman Keniston who has been visiting her brother, Albert Keniston has returned home at South Paris. Lucian Andrews, has bought part of the grass on the Pine Hill Farm formerly owned by Guy Dexter Cummings. His son-in-law, Albert Keniston is helping him cut it.

Breaking Records.

We have come to the conclusion that there is no limit to the farmer's accomplishments. He can do whatever he sets his head and heart upon. The 200 egg hen has already been replaced by the 300 egg hen, and in the course of time, whether we live to see it or not, some industrious little biddy will no doubt show up with a record of 365 eggs in a single year. We should not regard it as a miracle if we were to hear that a hen could lay even two eggs a day.

There is no such thing as a perfect hog or a heaviest steer or a strongest horse. Somebody can always break the record—somebody always does it—Farm Life.

FOUR GREAT FORCES FOR MERCY

All those engaged in the common purpose of making life a little easier for the boys at the front, and supplying them with some of the comforts that the army regulations do not include, are working as a harmonious unit and word has just received in this country, as to how the four great forces for mercy in France, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army, are co-operating and working together according to the demands of the situation in hand.

A Salvation Army officer over there reports that the doughboys enjoy and now request meetings of the Salvation Army sort, and that recently two officers of the Salvation Army finding themselves without a place in which to hold a meeting offered a nearby Y. M. C. A. Hut. Here they conducted a real, old-time Salvation Army meeting for the benefit of all the boys that could crowd into the hut. Similar instances of co-operation are common among the established organizations in France, where the relief workers pull together and the by-word of the allied soldiers, as well as the non-official welfare toilers behind the lines, is merely, "Win The War."

According to a cablegram received this morning by Commander Evangeline Booth, of The Salvation Army in America, Colonel William Barker, who is in charge of The Salvation Army War Work in France, was with the party of American officers who several days ago located the grave of Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, who was killed by the Germans. On a card placed upon the board at the head of the grave was written the line "Buried by the Germans."

The Americans smoothed over the grave, and with the consent of the officers present Colonel Barker secured a big wreath of flowers which almost covered the plot. To this he attached the card of Commander Miss Booth as a token of the esteem in which the Salvation Army holds the dead soldier.

Recently Major Theodore Roosevelt Jr., brother of Quentin, wrote a very wonderful tribute to the Salvation Army and the work it was doing in France. The letter was addressed to Major Atkins of The Salvation Army who had been with Major Roosevelt's division during its active participation in an actual trench warfare. It was given to him just before the Salvationist sailed for this country.

SPIRIT OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Here is the spirit of the American soldier in France. A boy with a division which has been over here several weeks had been unable to get cigarettes and tobacco. His unit had moved about, and he was given to ship supplies, "he was told. "Fine stuff," he said. "So long as the government gets over the men we can get along without the smokes. We can get along without candy and smokes, but we can't get along without writing paper to send letters home to the folks."

"That's one thing we can get all you want of," said the Y. M. C. A. man, and within an hour a supply of writing paper and envelopes was delivered to that unit.

Is Your Home Protected?

This matter of lightning rods should be a personal one with you.

Is your home protected? If not, can you afford to take the chances of its destruction?

You may have been spared up to this time, but give it a moment's thought and see whether it has not been through your good fortune rather than through your good management.

You have no assurance that lightning will continue to spare you.

It has visited your neighbors. Your turn may come next. If it should visit your home, it means certain destruction of property. It may mean sudden death to you or to some member of your family.

You cannot shift the responsibility. It is a matter for you to decide. Face the issue squarely and ask yourself the question whether you are playing the part of the prudent man in neglecting to guard your home and dear ones from the lightning stroke which may come at any time.

You have the highest assurances that can be given the Dodd System of lightning rods does give protection.

It is a reasonable system. The demonstrations put its effectiveness beyond question.

The position that the insurance companies have taken in the matter should have great weight with you.

Their interests are to preserve property. They have no personal interests in Dodd & Struthers.

Your interests are the same. You want to preserve your property—and your life and the lives of your family.

The insurance companies are encouraging you to protect your property.

But they cannot force you to act. It is a question for you and a question of NOW.

After awhile may be too late. Will you answer the question to your own best interest?

Then if in doubt, telephone to A. W. Walker & Son for a demonstration, and estimate on your buildings.

have a few tennis shoes left, in men's and boys' sizes, which are genuine bargains—ask to see them when you are in.

We also have good prices on a few summer shirts which ought to be sold before the heavier fall and winter shirts are put on the counter. Overalls and frocks are not exactly bargains now-a-days, but they are a saving for more expensive clothing and we have several weights and colors at very reasonable prices compared with the prices of cotton cloth and labor that goes into the manufacturing of such goods.

In groceries, we have a very good assortment of canned goods and it is a good time to get a few cans home for fall and winter use, as they are sure to be higher in prices later on. Coffee and tea in several grades, spices, mustard, Arm & Hammer and Three Crow Soda; this latter soda has some money in the packages. Also pure cream tartar, which is very high; and two kinds of cream tartar substitute, very nice and a great saving in cost. Flour and flour substitutes, a very good assortment to choose from.

NORTH WATERFORD

Albany Line

Two Seaside Buildings Burned Terrible loss by fire on Sawin Hill, Saturday Aug. 24th. The entire four building owned and occupied by E. C. Henley on Sawin Hill, North Waterford were consumed by fire with all their contents with the exception of a part of the furniture.

Saturday afternoon a strong wind was blowing. The buildings were connected and a barn full of hay made such heat, and smoke, it was impossible to get near enough to do much. Many fine farming tools were lost. Four barrels of beans, maple syrup, sugar, about two hundred cans of fruit, the other valuables and treasures that cannot be replaced.

Mr. Henley is the mail carrier in North Waterford.

The buildings of Pearl Weymouth caught fire from E. C. Henley's buildings, the wind carrying the flames. The whole business was soon in flames and his, too, was burned to the ground with a greater part of the contents including the hay etc.

Mr. Weymouth had recently purchased the place and was making a cozy home for himself. He is a hard working young man and it seems very hard for him as he too is left homeless.

The buildings of Ingalls McAllister too and caught fire but by prompt action time. Also the stable owned by Walter Lord caught fire twice but was fortunate. The fire was put out. It was thought all of the buildings on the hill must go. But plenty of help and water saved the place.

No live stock was burned. There was a small insurance both set of buildings, we understand, but hardly a drop in the bucket as might be said compared with their loss.

The Henley buildings were near Albany Line. They didn't save a mouthful of food stuff of any description or a dish to cook in. They are living in a tent on the ground and taking their meals at the neighbors who invited them in.

Quite a number from Albany attended the 24th.

Mrs. R. B. Penfold and two children, Alice and Jack from Great Diamond Island, visiting Mrs. Penfold's mother, Mrs. E. K. Smith and sister, Mrs. Ernest Brown and two brothers, Roy and Walter Lord in their place. Her husband, Sgt. R. B. Penfold is at Fort Meade.

David McAllister who went to one of the Lewiston Hospitals, Saturday, is improved.

Leon Kimball lost a valuable horse purchased in the spring, acute indigestion and inflammation of the kidneys the cause. This is the second horse he has lost this year. It is a great loss to him in the busiest part of the year.

Chandler Merrill of North Norway came over to his place in Biscobown, Saturday to cut his hay.

Peere Bryant and Fred Mosher are making some needed repairs on the Biscobown school house.

Frank E. DeCoster to William F. Jones both of Norway, the former Jonathan B. Smith store buildings and lot, corner Main and Pleasant streets, Norway village. The land once was a part of the Rust purchase and transferred to Ebenezer C. Shackley by Ruth Rust Sept. 28, 1846. Also an adjoining parcel being the same premises conveyed to Ebenezer C. Shackley by Thomas G. Goodwin et al Dec. 9, 1864.

One of the books which a bibliomaniac handles reverently is the famous Geneva Bible, better known as the "Breches Bible." This name is due to the rendering of Genesis III, 7, where Adam and Eve are said to have "sewed fig tree leaves together and made themselves breeches." This had been the reading of the first English Bible, Wycliffe's version, but later translators had substituted the word "apron" for "breeches," and the Geneva Bible reverted to the original. The fact that only one edition of the Geneva version contained this sentence makes the limited number more precious to the book gatherer.

Nearly all of the farmers have finished laying, that is, many of them are leaving their swales and meadows uncut again this season and there will be tons and tons of second quality of hay left out.

Some fields of sweet corn planted for this factory have been nearly destroyed by the frost. Other fields are coming along well, though uneven. It is claimed there was an acreage to produce 300,000 cans.

Hathaway-Jackson

Sergeant Lester Walton Hathaway of Co. B, 3rd Maine Infantry, now stationed at Camp Mills, N. Y., was united in marriage with Ismay Jackson of this place on Friday last. Both are graduates of the Woodstock High School. The event took place at the home of Albert Q.
Jackson, father of the bride. The officiating clergyman was Rev. E. H. Stover, pastor of the Baptist church. The bridesmaid was a classmate, Irene Parham.
A reception was given at the Jackson home on Monday evening. They have the best wishes of many friends for the future. Mr. Hathaway, who is the son of John E. Hathaway, a prominent farmer in the Whitman district, and expects soon to be called to France, where one brother has already preceded him.

Arthur A. Andrews an Albany farmer, has taken mail route No. 2, entering the service on Monday of this week. He has moved his family to the tenement over the Allen store, recently occupied by S.
W. Brooks.

Rev. O. L. Stone of Norway, supplied at the Baptist church last Sabbath, the regular pastor being still absent on a vacation.

The services for the summer at the Universalist church closed last Sabbath and there was a large attendance. The community chorus under the management of Prof. Wiske, materially assisted in the service.

HARRISON

Wight-Hurd

A wedding which comes as a surprise is that of Charlotte Nevil Hurd and Howard Marshall Wight which recently took place in Tacoma, Wash., on the eve of the bridegroom's departure for "over there."

It was a strictly private ceremony and was witnessed by the bride's mother, Mrs.
Frank Hurd and one or two others. With the departure of Mr. Wight the bride returned home.

After graduating from the University of California where she was identified with the Alpha Delta sorority, she became a member of the faculty of the Oregon College of Agriculture. It was here the romance began, the bridegroom being connected with this institution as professor of zoology. Mr. Wight is a native of Harrison, and a graduate of Bates College and came to Oregon two years ago,
receiving his master's degree in this college.

He has been most successful in his research work in rodent control and his bulletin on The Life History and Control of the Pocket Gopher will soon be published. He was called to service the last of April, leaving for overseas in July.

Hilda Whitten who has been working at C. D. Tarbox for a number of weeks has come to Watford to work for W. K.
Hamlin.

Geo. A. Flint and family who have been in Norway the past winter have moved back to their home on High St.
Mr. Flint will work in the Corn Shop for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Erland Noyes and Mrs.
Isabelle Stanton spent Sunday in Bethel with Mr. and Lawrence Knight.

G. Harrington Flint has finished his work in Portsmouth and will assist in the work of the Maine Tel. and Tel. Co. on the cables.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pitts spent the week end at Mrs. Pitt's home in Norway.
Hazel Burnham who went to Portsmouth to work in a telephone office has returned and is again working in the Harrison office.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blair recently visited their brother, Leman Dawes and wife.
Mrs. Herman Kneeland and daughter,
Lucille are visiting in Farmington.

Mr. McCall of Camp Kineo is in Wilson on business connected with his camp
there.

Arthur Marcoux and son, Clarence Marcoux of Waterville have been visiting relatives in town. Clarence is a wireless operator in the U. S. Service and has been absent the water four times.
He leaves soon for Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Needham of Mechanic Falls are visiting his sister, Mrs.
Oscar Kneeland on School St.

Lida Harmon has been assisting for a few days at the Nelson Bungalow.

Beth Pitts spent the week end at the Davis farm at North Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Guilford have returned from an extended automobile trip.
Bert Davis of the Coast Patrol is visiting his mother Mrs. Dora Davis.

Mrs. B. W. Harmon and daughter, Shirley attended Cornish Fair with Mr.
and Mrs. J. H. Randall.

B. W. Harmon is at his home on Hillside Avenue for a few days.

LOVELL CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Nason of Southboro, Mass., and daughter, Mrs. Grace Giles and son Norman from South Portland, spent a few days the past week at his brother's, George Nason's.

Sherman McAllister was operated on Tuesday of last week at his home by Dr.
Baker for abscess on the lung and is getting along as well as could be expected.
He is cared for by a trained nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McKeen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKeen and three children spent Sunday at their camp on the old farm at Slab City.

Mrs. Nellie McAllister is helping Mrs.
S. H. McAllister with her housework.
School commenced Monday, taught by Mrs. Lottie Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walker and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs.
James Henderson from Lawrence, Mass.
were at George Nason's Sunday, also George Brown from South Portland was at the same place, Sunday.

Althea Butters visited at Benjamin Russell's one day last week.

EAST PERU

Mrs. Smith of Portland, who is staying with her sister, Mrs. Agnes Curtis, is much improved.

C. S. Luce has bought a new Ford auto.

Second district voters are not being decided by the specious democratic argument that the only way in which Maine can register a vote of confidence in the administration's war program is to elect a democratic congressional delegation.
Maine voters are not ignorant; they are thinking men who read and follow the trend of public affairs, both locally, in the State and at Washington. They know who have supported the administration's war measures and who have not; also they are somewhat familiar with the records of public men. Such electorate cannot be misled by a mass of glittering generalities into rejecting men who have been tried and found true for the unknown quantity. In this district there will not be induced by such means to set aside Congressman White whose earnest, loyal and steadfast support of every war measure is a matter of official record, for a man, whose official record shows by his vote he helped, immediately preceding the war, to defeat measures
the purpose of which was to put this nation in a position to properly protect its citizens and their property.

When a democrat orator tells the people of this district that only by electing a democrat can they give a vote of confidence to President Wilson and assure him the support of war measures, they state that which cannot be substantiated
by the records.

These records are the votes in Congress and the reports of speeches as published in the Congressional Record. They show that Republicans in Congress have been the more consistent supporters of the measures, while the democrats in Congress have been the insistent opponents.

Examination of these records show that 76 per cent. of the republicans have supported the war measures, whereas but 72 per cent. of the democratic membership have done so.

Is this not a sufficient answer to the democratic claim that election of their candidates will be an endorsement of the administration's war policy whereas to elect republicans will not?

But there is another side to this matter which is worthy of consideration and is illuminating in the extreme. Who are the republicans who have opposed the war measures? Think that over. When you have done so you will find they are the fellows, the small fry, if you please; men whom are seldom heard of. The big men have jumped into the collar, put their shoulders to the wheel and lifted hard for the successful prosecution of the war.

Men such as Mann, Cannon, Longworth,
Lea, Kuntz, Knutson, Mason, in the house,
Gallinger, Lodge, Weeks, Wadsworth, Curtis, Smoot, Harden, Johnson, New,
Watson, Fall and Penrose in the senate have led the fight for the measure. How was it on the democratic side? The opposite. There we find the leading democrat opposing the war measure. We find Champ Clark leaving the speakers chair to go upon the floor of the house to oppose one of the chief war measures which Pres. Wilson had asked for; we find Claude Kitchin, chairman of the ways and means committee, opposing war measures and also Chairman Dent of the house military affairs committee taking the same attitude. It is a matter of very recent history how Chairman Dent has not always risen to the support of the President. He has been delaying action the new man now in the house, he is in the committee. In the senate it is the same; democratic leaders have opposed the war measures. Reed of Missouri, Stone of the same State, Vardaman of Mississippi, Eardwick of Georgia, all leaders on their side of the chamber have been constant opponents of the war measures. Is there anything in this which supports the democratic contention that the only way that Maine can write its endorsement of the war program is by electing democrats? We think not.

Another thing which the democrats are making considerable talk about is the matter of acting in a non-partisan manner; that policies should be adjoined, to use the President's favorite phrase. In support of this they call attention to the fact that in 1898, Reed, Hanna and other republican leaders urged the same thing, that Pres. McKinley might have the full support of congress in prosecuting the war against Spain. As usual, the democrats do not, in this instance, tell the whole story. They depend upon half truths to make their point.

It is true that republican leaders did in 1898, urge upon the democrats to forsake partisan politics and support the president as a matter of patriotism. It is also true that the democrats did not respond. As a party they ignored the call to patriotism—shibboleth of patriotism, Champ Clark at that time designated it—
and voted against the war measures.

The first great war measure, after the declaration of war, which Congress was called upon to enact was a war revenue bill. It was a bill prepared by Nelson Dingley of Maine's second district, then chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, and reported by that committee. Did the democrats of Congress at that time support the bill?
No. They did not. The record shows that but six democrats in the house and six in the senate voted for the bill.

And that is not all. The records show something more. They show that these twenty men were read out of the democrat party for so voting, for adjourning politics and voting according to the dictates of patriotism and the love of country.

And the records show further that the men who read them from the party were led by Champ Clark of Missouri, now speaker of the house, and James Hamilton Lewis, the same Senator Lewis who is to-day so fearful that a republican may forget his patriotic duty; the same James Hamilton Lewis who, if a republican member of the senate questions a word or sentence in any measure having the president's endorsement, denounces him
as a traitor to his country and a friend of Germany; the same Senator Lewis who went to New Hampshire and Indiana and Wisconsin and told the voters that the only way in which the unity of the land and the support of the administration could be secured was by electing democrats; the same Senator Lewis, whose advice in those states was ignored and laid aside.

The records, not only of this war, but of the Spanish-American war, as related, clearly demonstrate the weakness and the fallacy of the only claim which the democracy has put forward if it should,
this year, be based upon the support of the people of Maine and the second district.

NO SUNDAY AUTOING

The Fuel Administration has called upon the public in states east of the Mississippi River to cease the using of all classes of automobiles with a few named exceptions, motorcycles and motor boats on Sundays, until further notice, as a gasoline conservation measure.

Only voluntary compliance with the letter and spirit of the request will prevent the issuance of a mandatory order prohibiting the use of gasoline on Sundays, it was declared by the Fuel Administration. Automobiles for hire are included in the curtailment program.

Motor vehicles to which the restrictions do not apply were announced as:

Tractors and motor trucks employed in actual transportation of freight.

Vehicles of physicians used in performance of professional duties.

Ambulance, fire apparatus, police patrol wagons, undertakers' wagons and conveyances used for funerals.

Railway equipment using gasoline.

Repair outfits employed by telephone and public service companies.

Motor vehicles on errands of necessity in rural communities where transportation by steam or electricity is not available.

The action was taken by the Fuel Administration, it was stated, to meet a threatened shortage of gasoline for shipment overseas, created by increased domestic demands, and extensive military operations in France.

August Quota For Camp Devens

Forty-five draftees left South Paris Wednesday afternoon for Camp Devens. A good sized crowd was at the station to bid them farewell but no demonstration was given. Those not provided with comfort kits were supplied by the Rumford Red Cross Chapter.

The local boys in the quota were Harold D. Stevens, Ashley F. Edwards, Lowell L. Churchill, Harold Everett Hall and Hugh C. McPhee all of South Paris; Louis A. Hatstat of Norway; Leslie L. Gordon and Rev. Leslie Grundy both of West Paris. Rev. Leslie Grundy was pastor of the Methodist Church and leaves his wife and child, claiming no exemption.

Opera to Be Repeated

The Last Necklace, presented two weeks ago, will be repeated this Thursday evening at Norway Opera House at Red Cross benefit. This well staged opera attracted wide attention and will be given upon urgent request, with the same large cast and orchestra.

A dance will follow the performance, music by the regular orchestra and Howard Shaw with drums. This is a grand opportunity to pass a pleasant evening while contributing to a worthy cause.

Red Cross Concert

The musical event of the season will be enjoyed at Grange Hall on the evening of September 6, when the following artists will give a recital for the benefit of the Red Cross: Charles Harrison, Mrs. Young, Ruth Cummings, and Marion Haskell.

Mr. Haskell, the celebrated concert tenor, and Mrs. Young, soprano, are among the Harrison summer residents their homes being in New York. Miss Cummings for several years has studied the piano at the Faelton Pianoforte School in Boston.

Mr. Haskell for a similar period of time has been perfecting her technique as a violinist under Professor Kunz. Details of the program will appear in the next issue of the Advertiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester V. Ashton are spending a few days in Portland this week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Ashton, Lester's brother, who is assistant cashier in the Portland National Bank.

Mrs. Hattie Cahrell, Mrs. Charles Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Young took a trip to Bethel Inn, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Young and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Luck took a trip to Howard Lake, Hanover, Sunday. They stopped at Camp Bruin and went over to the Indian Rock Camp and were served a most plentiful dinner by the proprietor, W. C. Holt, who then showed the party around the beautiful grounds, also through some of his fine camps and which he lets. This is a beautiful spot and many guests are there this season.

O. C. Rich, local agent for the Garford Truck, is planning on a large exhibit at the County fair grounds. The show will include 1 to 10 ton trucks, tractors and trailers. Interesting demonstrations will be given by experts sent here for that purpose.

Mrs. H. L. Nichols and son Thomas are visiting relatives at Buzzard's Bay. They left Saturday to be away three weeks.

There will be a business meeting of the Home Department Workers of the Methodist Church, at the home of Addie Stevens, Wednesday at 2:30.

SUGAR "SMUGGLERS" FACE HEAVY FINE JAIL SENTENCES

Canada Plans Rigid Enforcement of New Sugar Regulations—Customs Officers Will Act Against Violators

Orono, Me., Aug. 29.—Reports that the Canadian Government is placing no restrictions on the use of sugar and that the citizens of this country, merely by crossing the border, may purchase in large amounts, are emphatically denied by the United States Food Administration.

The Canadian Food Board recently issued a statement calling for a reduction of Canadian sugar consumption to one and one-half pounds per person per month—half a pound below the "honor ration" requested in this country by the United States Food Administration.

All regulations governing the use of holding of sugar will be rigidly enforced, the Canada Food Board has declared. It is taking strict measures to prevent hoarding, in most cases imposing a jail sentence as well as a heavy fine.

Manufacturers are strictly curtailed in their use of sugar and householders are prohibited from purchasing in quantities which would warrant consumption of more than the requested allowance.

Citizens of this country would be running a serious risk if they attempted to purchase sugar in Canada. Although restrictions there are placed upon the purchaser rather than upon the retail dealer, severe penalties are provided for attempted exportation to the United States without an individual export license from the Canadian War Trade Board, which will grant export licenses only in cases which meet with the approval of this government.

Supplementary action along this line has been taken by the United States War Trade Board which has prohibited importation without an individual import license. Persons attempting to bring sugar from Canada to this country would be faced with the possibility of heavy fines and jail sentences should they be apprehended by the customs authorities of either country.

THE COMMON TABLE
To the average American the question of food has been mainly one of purchasing from the nearest grocer and butcher what appetite and income dictate. Where that food comes from, how much there is of it in the world, how universal its consumption, has been none of his concern.

He could get what he wanted if he could pay for it and nothing else mattered.

BEEF RESTRICTIONS REMOVED
The extreme drought in the great cattle country in the Southwest and certain states in the Northwest, is endangering the meat herds in these cattle producing sections. As an immediate result, the present cattle runs are 50 per cent heavier than in the corresponding period of last year.

The larger part of this stock is below the most desirable market weights and would normally remain on the ranges until it has attained a larger weight. So far as is possible these cattle are being moved to sections where conditions of grass, grain and water are more favorable.

The surplus must, however, be handled.

The Food Administration therefore is for the present releasing the meat restrictions. This is about one month earlier than was originally contemplated. It is desired, however, to continue the same careful regard for economy in beef and in all essential foods as a measure to safeguard the future. The desire of the Food Administration is to induce a preference in favor of the lighter weights of cattle, of which we have an abnormal surplus. This will bring about conservation of the heavier cattle needed for our soldiers.

SUGAR KITCHEN CARD
Every housewife throughout Maine and every other state knows there is a sugar shortage. Perhaps she has gone to the grocery store in a hurry to give a 25 pound order of sugar for canning and preserving and has been told she must sign a certificate. Or perhaps she has asked for a five or 10 pound bag of granulated sugar for cooking and table use and has had stingly meted out to her a one or two pound bag.

"Do tell us, then, exactly how much sugar we may have and help us to make that go round," is the universal cry. And that is exactly what the Food Administration wants to do.

Every territory, down to the smallest town or hamlet, has a local Food Administrator who is issuing the national rulings as fast as they come to him from Washington or from Orono. The present maximum sugar ration for household use is two pounds per person per month. This means one ounce per day or about 2-1/2 level teaspoons. Put that on your kitchen card where you can see it from time to time. Do remember that our soldiers need sugar more than we do, and that their supply must be saved in American homes.

If you want metal for hobbets, we have it and will sell it at a reasonable price.

Oxford County Fair Next

Sept. 10, 11 and 12 are the dates of the Oxford County Fair to be held at the society's grounds between South Paris and Norway. President W. J. Wheeler is superintendent of the grounds, C. W. Bowker of South Paris superintendent of the hall, W. H. Kilgore and T. P. Richardson superintendents of the horse department, and L. B. McIntire, E. W. Penley and A. W. Weston are superintendents of the cattle department.

The general program of the fair is about the same as usual. There will be band concerts on the afternoon of the first day, and forenoon and afternoon of the second and third days. Baby show at 2 o'clock the first day. Cattle exhibition especially the second day, though under the present system many more cattle are on the grounds through the fair than was formerly the case. Base ball games in the afternoon of the first day and in the forenoon of the other days. Parade of premium stock in the forenoon of the third day, and annual meeting of the society at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Drawing contents of horses and oxen all three days. All entries except in the races close Monday, Sept. 9 at 6 P. M.

One of the special attractions will be a large space in the exhibition hall devoted to canning and other demonstrations. Catherine Platt, leader of the Home Demonstrations Department for the state, will have charge and assisted by Lucy Jones. Demonstrations in home canning, the making of jam, jelly and similar work will be given every day.

Races will be as usual. Entries in the races must be received Sept. 3d by W. O. Frothingham, Secretary, South Paris.

Bisbee town

Fell into the Cellar Annie Hazelton stayed with her sister, Mrs. Rilla Marston, Monday night and Tuesday, who met with quite an accident at about six o'clock Monday night. She stepped in the cellar way on the broad stairs with a dish in one hand and a large pitcher of milk in the other, when the whole stair gave away and let her fall to a distance of nine feet, striking on a cement cellar bottom.

On the stair were four stone jars, a glass jar of syrup, pail of cream and a churn. Her husband heard the fall and rushed to her assistance and found her among the broken ware. He carried her part of the way out the bulk head and at last got her into the house by her help, then called for neighbors and a doctor, who came and dressed her wounds. She was out and her back that was hurt very badly. Fortunately no bones were broken and at this writing is as comfortable as can be expected, although her back is very painful. She sits up part of the time at this writing. Lillian McAllister is doing the housework.

NORWAY GRANGE

Norway Grange met at their hall Aug. 24. Worthy Master W. O. Perry called to order at 1:30 p. m. Officers pro tem, steward Charles Frost, assistant steward U. S. G. Abbott, gate keeper Clarence Buck, 1. a. steward Viola Abbott; minutes of last meeting read by Worthy Secretary W. E. Richardson. Matters of business were presented and acted upon. All were glad to welcome sister Eva Jackson who has been absent so long on account of her severe illness. It is with regret that Norway Grange learned that Brother Arthur Buck and his wife, Sister Harriet Buck are to be away for an unlimited time. Brother Buck is lecturer of Oxford Pomona Grange. They are among the most constant attendants and efficient workers, and will be greatly missed during their absence, not only in the grange, but in their social circle as well.

At the next meeting Sept. 14 at 1:30 p. m., Captain Ruth Noble and her assistant, Minnie Upton will present the program. The following program was presented by Captain Ada Cox and her assistants Minnie Haskell and Beryl Russell. The stage decorations were prettily arranged, at the front were several large bouquets of goldenrod, sweet peas, Frost flowers, poppies and holly hocks. The background was in pale blue with trailing evergreen, with P. of H. No. 45 in the center with the stars and stripes gracefully draped above the center. The program comprised a mixture of "grave and gay" and was exceedingly interesting and entertaining. Sister Addie Danforth was pianist for the day.

The minutes were read and the meeting closed in form.

Dr. Harry Jones is doing a real service by distributing the Kolynos "Parley You Booklet" giving pronunciation of French and German phrases for daily use by the soldiers. Every conceivable combination has been arranged in by Elmer M. Cole to help the boys and others in their dealings with friend and foe across the seas.

"Take an apple on the Rexall Store" was the sign over a bushel basket containing luscious red Williams' Favorites, near the entrance to Stone's Drug Store, Monday. This generosity with such fruit selling at thirty-five cents a peck caused many to pause and look for a joker. The apples disappeared, however, and no questions asked. P. F. Stone furnished the treat from his trees on Highland farm. Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Flint of Hartford, Conn., arrived here Friday as guests at Alfred E. Everett's. The party are motoring over a wide territory and have registered more than three thousand miles this season. They came from East Conway, Fryeburg and Stonham where they visited relatives and started Sunday on their homeward trip via Lewiston and Portland.

Arthur Hale who is employed at Portland arrived Saturday and remained with his family several days. He was overcome by the heat and unable to continue with his work until an improvement was noticed.

An auto party including Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Flint of Hartford, Conn. and Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Everett and family motored to Lewiston Friday evening. They passed the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Beliveau and family on Ash St. Upon their return a blow out opposite the Cushman & Hollis factory added spice to the trip and it was well into Saturday morning before the sleepy party reached Norway.

NORTH WATERFORD

Full House

At the Grange "Spasm" August 24th, several from out of town attended and voted it the best ever. The enthusiasm of the grange members had much to do with its success.

The ball was rolled by an interesting program in choral by Rilla Marston, followed by dancing. Contrasts, waltzes and one-steps made up the order and at times the hall was crowded. Burnham Rice, drums; Guy Morse, organ and Linwood Flint, violin, furnished music, assisted by Frances Hall, who kindly sang several numbers. This young lady has a charming voice of much promise and was a novel and pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment.

Delicious ice cream was on sale, it was made by makers of experience and the demand was a riot. Many hoped they'd have another "spasm" soon, as they know it means a jolly good time and a full house.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Came to this Woman after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—"After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wanted me to try it. It brought relief from my troubles.

I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.

We will be very glad to explain to you the formulae of any of these.

Do You Realize That Your Liver Causes More Trouble Than Any Other Organ of the Body?

Fortunately this trouble is very easily eradicated and responds quickly to the most pleasant-tasting medicines

GRANULAR EFFERVESCENT SALTS

are easy and pleasing to take, give quick relief without any unpleasant after effects.

REXALL LIVER SALTS

is a favorite preparation which thousands of people use as its enormous sales convincingly testify.

It produces practically the same beneficial results as the celebrated Carlsbad water, for which people cross the ocean and spend thousands of dollars.

It is recommended for rheumatism and gout, as well as heartburn, indigestion and skin disorders.

It is generally advisable to use Rexall Liver Salts to cleanse the system before taking other medicines because it will put the system in thorough condition so that it can best assimilate other preparations.

Other granular effervescent preparations to which we call your attention are Rexall A B C Seltzer, Sodium Phosphate, and Citric Magnesia.

We will be very glad to explain to you the formulae of any of these.

Soldiers' Letters

The following letters were written by Jacob A. Klain to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Klain of Norway and sister, Dora.

My dear parents:

I am here at the front now, having a great time, observing the many different things that happen. One instance in particular I shall never forget is when the Boche sent over gas shells along with his 2, 3 and 6 inch shells, which certainly made some noise. This bombardment took place early this morning (1:30 A. M.). Of course we are always on the watch for this kind of stuff, so all of us got our gas masks on O. K. We were in gas over three hours. Believe me it was noisier than any of you have ever observed. As yet I haven't seen a Boche but when I do there will be one less Hun in the German army.

I am fast becoming a Frenchman now as I am among them most of the time. What little French I did take in college is very handy to me now. The French are very kind to us and help us in every way possible. Lately we have been having rainy weather but this afternoon it has cleared up quite warm and shiny.

One thing I want to remember not to worry about me for I am just as safe as in the States. We are getting plenty to eat and a splendid place to sleep. We sleep under ground now about twelve feet deep. This of course is a great shelter for us when the shells explode.

I can't begin to write you half what I would like to as the censor don't allow it, as you know. I hope some day in the near future to tell you all the many happenings we boys have and will go through. We love to you all dear folks and don't worry, your loving son, Jake.

Sunday, July 21, 1918.

Dear folks:

I received your letter O. K. to-day with Bess' picture in it. Was much pleased with it. Undoubtedly you are anxious to know that I am in the best of health, after driving the Huns for over ten miles. You probably have seen by the papers where we made this big drive. Will write you again soon, don't worry about me. I have written several letters to you and you will get them O. K. in time. I never have received your letters, but I will send me any for its useless I never will get them. Must close now with love to you 'always. Don't worry. Love. Son Jacob Astor.

July 28, 1918.

My dear Dora:

We have been in a big battle and I think all the ones you know are alright, am not sure for I was not with D. Co. I was sent to command Co. G at the beginning. My wound does not amount to anything only a bullet through the leg and will soon be alright again. Don't try to send me anything for I need nothing.

During the fighting I lost all my clothing and so did everybody else, but we gave the Hun a kicking just the same.

Don't worry if my letters do not arrive frequently, you know the mails are very uncertain and I am always alright. Please give my love to all and keep happy. From Jake.

Written by Sergeant William S. Bennett of Norway to Watchman Charles D. Ruggles.

Base Hospital 31, Somewhere in France, August 2, 1918.

Dear friend Charles: Got a letter from you a long time ago, but have not had a chance to answer until now. Was more than pleased to hear from you and to know that you were well.

Probably the folks have told you that I am in the hospital again. Well, I got a machine gun bullet through the hips, and of course it means blighty for a while, but I am getting along fine, can walk a bit but can't sit down, or lie on my back, so when I write I have to get in rather a funny position and I don't know as you can read this, but I like to write to old friends even if it does take them quite a while to puzzle it out.

Of course you get all the news about the big drive that is on, but just take it from me, the boys from Yankee land are showing Fritz that they can scrap. Prussian Guards or Bavarians, they all get the same medicine, and the bayonet in a Yank's hands is sure a big argument.

and the Boche say the Americans don't know enough to retreat. Say, Charles, you would have been proud if you could have seen the old outfit go into battle, not a man hung back, all the trouble we had was holding the men until the time came to go over and when the time did come, it was just a yell and the whole show was on; they were just wild to get at Fritz and they sure got at him.

Well, Charles, suppose you are busy regarding the town while it sleeps.

Give my best regards to Sel, and tell him I'd like to drift into his shop for a hair cut and shave. I haven't had a shave for a week and I sure am a picture. Am going to try and shave myself to-day, don't know how I will succeed. Every time I get a razor, I lose it. Had a fairly good one when I got wounded this time and thought I could save all my equipment, but started crawling back, got rather tired and weak and ditched my pack. That meant razor and all, went away farther and away went the good old razor, next started to crawl back, got the holster, tucked it in the front of my shirt and then ditched belt, ammunition and all. When I got to the First Aid Station my "gat" was all the implement of war I had. Oh, yes, I had a compass and jackknife.

Oh, well, it's a war, Charles, but all you've got to do is grin and take everything as it comes and it don't seem half so bad. This makes twice that Fritz has sent me to blighty, but don't him, I'm going back once more, just to kid him along a little.

I have written an awful mess of—probably you are tired of reading it, so will close for this time, but before I do, I want to thank you for your kindness to me in the past and for the kind offer you made in your letter to me. Your sincere friend

Bill.
